Upon receipt of your statement, differences, if any, should be reported to the bank promptly in writing and in accordance with provisions in your deposit agreement.

Important Information

Change of Address. Please call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to tell us about a change of address.

Deposit Agreement. When you opened your account, you received a deposit agreement and fee schedule and agreed that your account would be governed by the terms of these documents, as we may amend them from time to time. These documents are part of the contract for your deposit account and govern all transactions relating to your account, including all deposits and withdrawals. Copies of both the deposit agreement and fee schedule, which contain the current version of the terms and conditions of your account relationship, may be obtained at our banking centers.

Electronic Transfers: In case of errors or questions about your electronic transfers
If you think your statement or receipt is wrong or if you need more information about an electronic transfer (e.g., ATM transactions, direct deposits or withdrawals, point-of-sale transactions) on the statement or receipt, telephone or write us at the address and number listed on the front of this statement as soon as you can. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the FIRST statement on which the error or problem appeared.

- * Tell us your name and account number.
 - * Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error or why you need more information.
 - * Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

- Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.
For consumer accounts used primarily for personal, family or household purposes, we will investigate your complaint and will correct any error promptly. If we take more than 10 business days (20 business days if you are a new customer, for electronic transfers occurring during the first 30 days after the first deposit is made to your account) to do this, we will recredit your account for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation.

For other accounts, we investigate, and if we find we have made an error, we credit your account at the conclusion of our investigation.

Reporting Other Problems. You must examine your statement carefully and promptly. You are in the best position to discover errors and unauthorized transactions on your account. If you fail to notify us in writing of suspected problems or unauthorized transactions within the time periods specified in the deposit agreement (which periods are no more than 60 days after we make the statement available to you and in some cases are 30 days or less), we are not liable to you for, and you agree not to make a claim against us for the problems or unauthorized transactions.

Direct Deposits. If you have arranged to have direct deposits made to your account at least once every 60 days from the same person or company, you may call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to find out if the deposit was made as scheduled.

How to handle your own

Cherry Hill, NJ (USA) 2019-05-01T10:00:00Z

It's not always easy to know what to do when you're faced with a problem that seems to have no solution. Here are some tips that might help you figure out how to handle your own problems:

- Identify the problem. The first step is to identify the problem. This means figuring out exactly what's going on and what needs to be done to fix it.
- Get information. Once you've identified the problem, it's important to get as much information as possible about it. This can include talking to other people who have experienced similar problems or doing research online.
- Develop a plan. After you've gathered information, it's time to develop a plan of action. This should include specific steps you can take to address the problem, as well as backup plans if things don't go as expected.
- Take action. Once you've developed a plan, it's time to take action. This means putting your plan into motion and working towards a solution.
- Evaluate progress. As you work through your plan, it's important to evaluate your progress regularly. This will help you make sure you're on track and make any necessary adjustments along the way.
- Stay positive. Finally, it's important to stay positive and believe in yourself. Even if things don't go as planned, it's important to keep pushing forward and not give up.

Conclusion

What is the problem?	What are the causes?	What are the solutions?
Problem A	Causes A1, A2, A3	Solutions S1, S2, S3
Problem B	Causes B1, B2, B3	Solutions S4, S5, S6
Problem C	Causes C1, C2, C3	Solutions S7, S8, S9
Problem D	Causes D1, D2, D3	Solutions S10, S11, S12

Handling your own problems can be challenging, but it's important to remember that you have the power to make things better. By following these steps, you can identify the problem, gather information, develop a plan, take action, and evaluate progress. With a positive attitude and a willingness to work hard, you can overcome any challenge that comes your way.

Additional resources

If you're looking for more resources on handling your own problems, there are many great books and articles available online.

Some popular books on handling problems include "Crucial Conversations" by Kerry Patterson, "The Four Agreements" by Don Miguel Ruiz, and "The Five Phases of Change" by Prochazka and Prochazka. There are also many online resources, such as websites and forums, that can provide valuable information and support.

Remember, handling your own problems is a skill that takes practice. By following these steps and staying positive, you can become a master at solving your own challenges.

If you're still having trouble handling your own problems, consider seeking help from a professional counselor or therapist. They can provide guidance and support as you work through your challenges.

Upon receipt of your statement, differences, if any, should be reported to the bank promptly in writing and in accordance with provisions in your deposit agreement.

Important Information

Change of Address. Please call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to tell us about a change of address.

Deposit Agreement. When you opened your account, you received a deposit agreement and fee schedule and agreed that your account would be governed by the terms of these documents, as we may amend them from time to time. These documents are part of the contract for your deposit account and govern all transactions relating to your account, including all deposits and withdrawals. Copies of both the deposit agreement and fee schedule, which contain the current version of the terms and conditions of your account relationship, may be obtained at our banking centers.

Electronic Transfers: In case of errors or questions about your electronic transfers
If you think your statement or receipt is wrong or if you need more information about an electronic transfer (e.g., ATM transactions, direct deposits or withdrawals, point-of-sale transactions) on the statement or receipt, telephone or write us at the address and number listed on the front of this statement as soon as you can. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the FIRST statement on which the error or problem appeared.

- * Tell us your name and account number.
 - * Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error or why you need more information.
 - * Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

For consumer accounts used primarily for personal, family or household purposes, we will investigate your complaint and will correct any error promptly. If we take more than 10 business days (20 business days if you are a new customer, for electronic transfers occurring during the first 30 days after the first deposit is made to your account) to do this, we will recredit your account for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation.

For other accounts, we investigate, and if we find we have made an error, we credit your account at the conclusion of our investigation.

Reporting Other Problems. You must examine your statement carefully and promptly. You are in the best position to discover errors and unauthorized transactions on your account. If you fail to notify us in writing of suspected problems or unauthorized transactions within the time periods specified in the deposit agreement (which periods are no more than 60 days after we make the statement available to you and in some cases are 30 days or less), we are not liable to you for, and you agree not to make a claim against us for the problems or unauthorized transactions.

Direct Deposits. If you have arranged to have direct deposits made to your account at least once every 60 days from the same person or company, you may call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to find out if the deposit was made as scheduled.

Important Information About Your Account

Effective with statement periods beginning on or after February 1, 2008, the following changes apply to your Business Checking account: You can avoid the monthly service charge by maintaining a minimum daily balance of $4,000, an average monthly balance of $10,000, a combined minimum daily balance of $7,500 or a combined average monthly balance of $15,000.

The fee for checks paid and other debits is $0.40 per transaction in excess of 100 transactions per statement period. The fee for Check Enclosure Service is $5. There is no fee for Check Safekeeping Service or Check Image Service. Call us for more information on how you can avoid this fee. These changes amend your Business Schedule of Fees.

Please call Customer Service if you have any questions. We value your business and our associates will be happy to assist you.

A monthly service charge was applied to your account because your balance was below the minimum balance of $4,000 and the average balance of $8,000. You can avoid this charge by linking other Bank of America savings plans and meeting the $7,500 minimum combined balance or $15,000 average combined balance requirements.

Upon receipt of your statement, differences, if any, should be reported to the bank promptly in writing and in accordance with provisions in your deposit agreement.

Important Information

Change of Address. Please call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to tell us about a change of address.

Deposit Agreement. When you opened your account, you received a deposit agreement and fee schedule and agreed that your account would be governed by the terms of these documents, as we may amend them from time to time. These documents are part of the contract for your deposit account and govern all transactions relating to your account, including all deposits and withdrawals. Copies of both the deposit agreement and fee schedule, which contain the current version of the terms and conditions of your account relationship, may be obtained at our banking centers.

Electronic Transfers: In case of errors or questions about your electronic transfers
If you think your statement or receipt is wrong or if you need more information about an electronic transfer (e.g., ATM transactions, direct deposits or withdrawals, point-of-sale transactions) on the statement or receipt, telephone or write us at the address and number listed on the front of this statement as soon as you can. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the FIRST statement on which the error or problem appeared.

- * Tell us your name and account number.
 - * Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error or why you need more information.
 - * Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

For consumer accounts used primarily for personal, family or household purposes, we will investigate your complaint and will correct any error promptly. If we take more than 10 business days (20 business days if you are a new customer, for electronic transfers occurring during the first 30 days after the first deposit is made to your account) to do this, we will recredit your account for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation.

For other accounts, we investigate, and if we find we have made an error, we credit your account at the conclusion of our investigation.

Reporting Other Problems. You must examine your statement carefully and promptly. You are in the best position to discover errors and unauthorized transactions on your account. If you fail to notify us in writing of suspected problems or unauthorized transactions within the time periods specified in the deposit agreement (which periods are no more than 60 days after we make the statement available to you and in some cases are 30 days or less), we are not liable to you for, and you agree not to make a claim against us for the problems or unauthorized transactions.

Direct Deposits. If you have arranged to have direct deposits made to your account at least once every 60 days from the same person or company, you may call us at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement to find out if the deposit was made as scheduled.
